

Celebration/Commemoration: “confrontation face to face”

You are invited to a Public Conversation between black lesbian activists, Zanele Muholi and Freenger: “what does it mean to look at?”

‘In the face of all the challenges encountered by black lesbians daily, I embarked on a journey of visual activism to ensure that there is black queer visibility. It is important to mark, map and preserve our mo(ve)ments through visual histories for reference and posterity so that future generations will note that we were here.’

Zanele Muholi

And the Cape Town Book Launch of Faces and Phases (Zanele Muholi with all the participants in the Faces and Phases project)

TUESDAY 24 MARCH 2015

Zanele Muholi Faces and Phases

5.30pm (with juice and wine)

Centre for African Studies Gallery

Harry Oppenheimer Building, Upper Campus, University of Cape Town

Please RSVP to Hilda Ferguson - hilda.ferguson@uct.ac.za / 021 6504102 ~ Copies of the book will be on sale at the launch